INSTITUTE FOR ENGINEERING RESEARCH AND PUBLICATION

Dear {{IFERP Member}},

IFERP has strengthened its position in the international technical community by expanding its membership internationally. IFERP promotes outcome-based education by persuading all universities to adopt sustainable development principles and advance their students' aptitude for original research and creativity.

A committed staff works closely with the institution and the students to understand their needs and to provide the best solutions for developing research methodology and employment opportunities.

IFERP has partnered with the top experts to host webinars to share their views and knowledge on the trends in order to meet demand and raise awareness of the newest technologies.

This month's newsletter includes a list of on-demand conferences, scientific events, speakers, book chapters, journals launched, and much more.
